

The "broadcast flag" tramples dangerously on consumers' fair use rights. It is nothing more than an attempt by the RIAA to block technological advancements not to their liking by demanding grotesquely intrusive regulations as to what technologies are allowable. I strongly encourage you not to adopt the regulation.